SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

In the Air. The scent of a blossom from Edent The flower was not given to me, Dut it freshened my spirit forever, As it passed, on its way to thee!

In my soul is a lingering music:
The song was not meant for me,
But I listen, and listen, and wonder
To whom it can loveller be.

The sounds and the scents that flow by us-They cannot tell whither they go; Yet, however it falls of its errand, Love makes the world sweeter, I know.

I know that love never is wasted, Nor truth, nor the breath of a prayer; And the thought that goes forth as a blessing blessing Must live, as a joy in the air.

The best of all God's blessings
Are caught upon the wing,
And then set free into the heaven
Of other hearts, to sing.

Our message brought no answer— Our dream did not come true; But we have freshened weary lives In ways we never know.—LUCY LARCOM.

At Orange Show.

At Orange Show.

Miss Meta Randolph, who spent the early summer most pleasantly with friends in Maryland, went to Orange for the Horse Show, which has proved a great social event and been largely attended.

Miss Randolph has taken an active part in all the gayeties attendent upon the show, and has not yet returned to Richmond. Other charming Richmond girls in Orange include the Misses Shiolds and Miss Sophia White.

Mrs. Brown Honored.

The Roancke Evening World of recent date has an item of interest to Richmond and Virging trionas of the indies mentioned. The World says:

"Mrs. Dwight Newell, of Asheville, N. C., was hostess during the week of a chaming reception, given in honor of her guests, Mrs. Vincent Smith and Mrs. Powhatan Conway, of Danville, Va., and Mrs. J. Thompson Brown, of Richmond, Va. The receiving party were stationed in the drawing-room, which was decorated in red and green, with a profusion of ferns and sweet peas. Mrs. Newell were a dainty gown of willte mousselline, trimmed with baby Irish lace; Mrs. Smith was gowned in a handsome black crepe de chine; Mrs. Conway's gown was of gray volle over blue taffeta; Mrs. Brown was dressed in black net over of gray volle over blue taffeta; Mrs. Brown was dressed in black net over white silk. Ices and other refreshments were served in the dining-room. A large list of guests were present."

DREAM-PEDLARY.

BY THOMAS LOVELL BEDDOES.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical skotch, have already been printed in this series.

If there were dreams to sell Wint would you buy? Wint would you buy?
Some cost a passing bell;
Some a light sigh.
That shakes from Life's fresh crown
Only a roso-leaf down.
If there were dreams to sell,
Merry and sad to tell,
And the orler rung the bell,
What would you buy?

A cottage lone and still,
With bowers nigh,
Shadowy, my woes to still,
Until I dio.
Such pearl from Life's fresh crown
Fain would I shake me down.
Were dreams to have at will,
This would best heal my ill,
This would I buy.

But there were dreams to sell ill didst thou buy;
Life is a dream, they toil,
Waking, to die.
Dreaming a dream to prize,
Is wishing ghosts to rise;
And, if I had the spell
To call the burled well,
Which one would I? Which one would I?

If there are ghosts to raise,
What shall I call
Out of hell's murky haze,
Heaven's blue pall?
Raise my lov'd long-lost boy
To lead me to his joy.
There are ne ghosts to raise;
Out of death lead no ways;
Vain is the call.

Know'st thou not ghosts to sue?
No love thou hast.
Else lie, as I will do.
And breathe thy last.
So out of Life's fresh crown Fall like a rose-leaf down.
Thus are the ghosts to woo;
Thus are all dreams made true,
Ever to last!

and Lieutenant Miller, of Forfress Monroo.

Montion is also made of a progressive euchre party given at Cape View cottage by Miss Rosalie Milnes, at which the following Richmond people were present? Mrs. Warner Moore, Mrs. W. W. Hardwicke, Mrs. T. E. Swaine, Mrs. H. K. Franklin and Miss Hilda Wainan. The ladies' prize was won by Miss Bishop, of St. Louis, and the gentlemen's by Mr. Outten, of Hampton.

Townsend—Robinson.

The marriage at noon yesterday of Mrs. Paul Hooker Robinson, of this city, to Dr. Frederick W. Townsend, of Gleveland, comes as a surprise to her many friends in this city. The ecromony took place at the residence of the bridegroom's brother, at Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Townsend, who spent the last two years at the Savoy, left the city early in June for Virginia Beach, where, with her three small children, she spent the first part of the summer. She is a woman of great chairn of manner and unusual beauty. Her father was Henry Bissell, a prominent banker of Cincinnati, and her mother was formerly Miss Ad. Childrete, a woman noted for her beauty.

Dr. and Mrs. Townsend will arrive in Washington to-day, where it is expected they will leave the children and ge for an extended trip North. In the autumn Dr. and Mrs. Townsend and the children will go to Cincinnatt, where they will establish their future home,—Washington Post.
